

You Can Get There From Here.

School of Applied Arts and Technology

EASTERN KENTUCKY UNIVERSITY

Applied Engineering & Technology

Construction Management

Graduates in Construction Management pursue careers with general contracting firms taking positions.

Applied Engineering Management

This program prepares graduates for many supervisory and technical management positions in industry.

Technology

The Technology Associate of Applied Science degree has four options: Computer Aided Drafting (CAD), Computer Electronics, Digital Imaging Design and Quality Assurance.

Graphics Communication Management

This program prepares individuals to apply technical and managerial knowledge and skills to the processes and procedures of managing operations from initial design through finished product distribution.

Aviation

Students have two options in the aviation program, a Professional Flight option or the Aerospace Management option.

Career and Technical Education

This program prepares teachers and trainers for positions in agriculture, communications, construction, engineering, manufacturing, transportation, and computer technology.

Network Security and Electronics

This program prepares students to provide computer electronic networking, system administration, and security expertise in a broad range of work environments.

Chair, Department of Applied Engineering & Technology

307 Whalin Technology Complex
Eastern Kentucky University

521 Lancaster Avenue
Richmond KY 40475
(859) 622-3232

www.technology.eku.edu

Scholarship information is online at:

www.technology.eku.edu/scholarships/scholarships.html

Eastern Kentucky University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer and educational institution.